Over the past year, The Collins Foundation has made 264 grants to organizations located in all parts of Oregon and supporting a wide variety of missions to benefit the people and communities of this state.

In 2014. The Collins Foundation crossed an exciting milestone in our history. For the first time in a single year, we made grants totaling more than $10 million. While we have approached this milestone gradually, having reached it reminds us of our responsibility to those we serve. Thinking back on our founders, I wonder if in 1947 when my father, his siblings, and his mother began the Foundation, they envisioned a time when so much good could come from what they had set in motion. Considering our history, it took 30 years for the cumulative giving of The Collins Foundation to surpass $10 million, so many decades of wise investments, along with additional contributions earlier in our history, have made a significant difference in what we are able to give today.

I think it is worth reflecting on the tremendous and lasting value of the act of beginning a long-term endeavor to help people, whether it be a foundation, a nonprofit, or some other venture. I know that our founders created the Foundation with the intent of improving the lives of Oregonians, and they wanted to do more than just make a single contribution to something in 1947. Their intent was to enable an ongoing source of contributions. The simple act of getting together and deciding what they wanted to do and then following through with that plan has made a cumulative difference of more than $200 million given to nonprofit organizations throughout the state. Over the past nearly 70 years, decisions big and small have been made by trustees and staff, and taken together have resulted in our legacy of giving. However, without that initial decision and the will to see it through, none of this would have been possible.

As always, I would like to say how much I appreciate the dedication of our entire staff to this work and to the betterment of Oregon. It would be hard to overstate how much I appreciate working with these people in particular and more generally with those in the nonprofit community who work tirelessly to make our state a better place.

Truman W. Collins Jr. President

Few things can bring a community together more effectively than a building campaign for a beloved nonprofit. The momentum often starts with a few passionate individuals. They see a need, conceive a plan, and begin sharing their vision. As their circle expands, more and more people begin to believe in what might be possible. Volunteers step up to raise and contribute money; more volunteers come forward with services, materials, and labor.

It can take years of hard work, not to mention tenacity, to complete a major capital project, but the journey itself is instrumental because it offers a chance for everyone to get involved. It builds community one brick at a time.

Since early 2012, we have witnessed a building renaissance among nonprofits in communities across Oregon. It has been a true pleasure for The Collins Foundation to support this work, especially in light of the dry spell that preceded it a long recession that kept many of us, foundations and nonprofits alike, focused on the basics.

This annual report features 14 of the many building projects the Foundation has supported over the past two years. These represent $2 million in grants, which is just a fraction of the total we have contributed to capital projects recently. Whether in urban or rural Oregon, each project has brought people together in the spirit of sharing to address a need or seize an opportunity.

Grantmaking at The Collins Foundation is serious work, but it is also inspiring and joyous. We have the opportunity to support transformational projects as they build momentum, and the joy of knowing we played some part in their realization.

Residents of the geographically isolated Upper Nehalem Valley have relied on the Vernonia Health Center for > primary and preventative healthcare services since 1978. As a vital resource for the area's 5,000 residents, the center provides medical services for local residents, without concern for an individual's financial situation. The health center's facility experienced major floods in 1996 and 2007 and needed to find a new and safer location. Upon securing federal emergency funds and community support, Vernonia Health Center identified a site for construction on a property it could share with two other important community agencies, the senior center and the food bank.

"The new Vernonia Health Center provides services that could not even be imagined in the old service building. The Vernonia community suffered natural disasters and the lack of consistent quality medical care. The new center not only delivers modern healthcare in a clean, safe, modern environment but also serves as symbolic permanence to the community.

-Kim Lovato MS, PA-C Provider

which were also in need of new homes. The new 5,400square-foot Vernonia Health Center was completed in 2014 and now stands above the floodplain to fulfill its commitment as a local resource for primary care, community nursing, and mental and behavioral health for the residents of this rural area.

Since its incorporation in 1972, Baker County YMCA has remained the only organization in this rural area that provides community education and fitness programs for residents of all ages. With a mission to enrich and improve lives, the YMCA serves more than 2,400 members and 1,000 nonmembers annually through activities that promote youth development, healthy living, and social responsibility. In 2014, the YMCA purchased and renovated a 24,000-square-foot building to expand its services and consolidate under one roof its fitness center, preschool and youth programs, and childcare and partner offerings, which had been scattered at different sites in Baker City. Since the completion of the new facility, the YMCA has implemented new programs to help individuals and youth pursue more active and healthier lifestyles, and increased its membership by 24 percent.

"The Baker County YMCA provides our community with an incredible resource: more than a fitness center, the Y offers a welcoming, positive experience for all who utilize and benefit from its wealth of programs. It's an invaluable asset within Baker County, and I am proud to serve on its board." -Lisa Coughlin, Board Member

Twenty-five years ago, the Benedictine Sisters of Mt. Angel established the St. Joseph Shelter ministry to work with migrant and area farmworkers in Marion County's rural farming community. The shelter provided two dormitories primarily serving single males, and offered basicneeds assistance, case management, advocacy and referrals, and education and job search resources. A number of years ago, recognizing that farmworker families had few options for safe and decent housing in the area, the shelter decided to convert one of the dormitory facilities into Casa Adele, an apartment complex with eight two-bedroom family units and two studio apartments. Construction started in 2013 after the shelter secured federal, state, and community funds. Each Casa Adele apartment is equipped with a full kitchen and bathroom and energy-efficient appliances. A mudroom and laundry area is shared by all. Today at St. Joseph Shelter, farmworker families can stay together in safe and affordable housing for up to one year.

FISH Food Bank and its satellite pantries annually distribute more than 110,000 pounds of food to residents in Hood River County. Receiving strong volunteer support from in the Hood River area since 1969 in order to meet demand. After four years of planning, community engagement, and

"Our new facility will provide a warm, inviting space where our food-insecure neighbors can 'grocery shop' in a relaxed, ADA-accessible and dignified environment. Clients will be assisted by volunteers who support and interact with them in a respectful and meaningful manner. The building represents the power of a community joining together for a common cause and will be a source of pride for years to come!"

- Debbie Hanna, FISH Food Bank Volunteer

fundraising, FISH began construction of its new headquarters in 2014. The 6,000-square-foot facility will have storage for more and varied kinds of foods, adequate loading docks, and a kitchen/classroom. It will offer community gardening on its property. In the new space, FISH plans to make an even larger impact on hunger in the community, not only by providing more capacity, but also by teaching families how to grow, prepare, and preserve their own food.

An individual in the Portland metro area who has completed early-stage addiction treatment typically waits up to a full year to receive a referral for affordable supportive housing, and few options exist for those seeking > family-sized apartments or culturally appropriate services. In 2014, Central City Concern launched a capital campaign to increase housing and supportive services for families and individuals in Clackamas and Multnomah counties. With this campaign, Central City Concern will provide the long-term recovery support that is critical to reducing relapse, recidivism, and repetitive cycles of addiction and homelessness—issues the organization has been tackling since 1979. The project includes 60 family units in Clackamas County (pictured above); 47 units in northeast Portland in partnership with the Miracles Club, a culturally specific program serving the African American community; and two additional units in northeast Portland for women in recovery transitioning to permanent housing.

Four Rivers Community School serves predominately lowincome and Latino students in rural Ontario with a unique dual-language model of instruction that provides one week of instruction in Spanish and the next week of instruction in English to its entire K-8 student body. As a result, all students graduate from eighth grade bi-literate in reading, writing, and speaking. Eighty-five percent of eighth-grade graduates earn 12-24 college

"The Family Education Center is beautiful. Our kids already take pride in the school, but now they have a deeper appreciation for it. This is something awesome for families to be proud of, having their kids go to Four Rivers Community School. We are so thankful for this."

- Lupe Brown, Parent from the School

credits of Spanish. In 2014, Four Rivers built the Family Education Center to strengthen its commitment to whole family education and provide a resource center for the entire Ontario community. The center provides opportunities for families to engage in adult learning classes, early childhood programs, and higher education preparation. The family center also provides a place where community residents of all ages can participate in recreational and cultural activities.

Founded in 1909, the Pacific Northwest College of Art in Portland has been using art and design to change lives for over a century through BFA and MFA degree programs; a range of professional development and continuing education programs in design arts, media arts, and studio arts; and community outreach offerings that include arts education and exhibitions. In 2015, the college opened the centerpiece of its downtown Portland campus—the newly renovated Arlene and Harold Schnitzer Center for Art and Design at 511 NW Broadway. Within the building's 145,000 square feet and 100-year-old marble walls, PNCA has included double-height painting and drawing studios, technology-equipped classrooms, recording booths, and animation/media labs to accommodate nearly all of its educational programming. Additionally, the building's open atrium, galleries, and public gathering areas are designed to establish a renewed, welcoming neighborhood presence for the broader community as it intersects with the world of art and design.

"By bringing all our classrooms together at the Children's Center it provides the teachers the opportunity to develop a more robust curriculum and better environment for the children. We also have the chance to interact with the family services staff and the leadership of the program to create a better team." — Teacher, Neighborhood House

For more than a century, Neighborhood House has been bringing neighbors together throughout Multnomah County to reduce hunger and homelessness and to educate and strengthen the community.

Neighborhood House serves more than 18,000 people annually through its early childhood services, resources for school-age youth, family support, and senior programs. In 2014, the agency finished construction of the Children's Center on the grounds of Stephens Creek

Crossing, an affordable housing complex developed by Home Forward. Co-locating the two made it possible to consolidate three Head Start programs into one facility and to reach out to the children's parents and families to provide parenting workshops and support, including family literacy and English as a Second Language programs.

Founded in 1973, Sponsors in Eugene has been working with formerly incarcerated individuals to provide them with the resources they need to successfully reenter community life. Sponsors > began its housing program in 1988 and, since then, has grown its transitional housing to 11 residential facilities. The agency provides case management, counseling, and practical support, serving approximately 400 men and women annually. In 2014, Sponsors completed the construction of Bothy Cottage, a five-bedroom residence for women transitioning from incarceration who need support and guidance in order to reunite with their children. At Bothy Cottage, women who are in the process of regaining custody of their children participate in parent skill development and counseling and receive support

"My son Michael and I moved into Bothy Cottage after a two-year separation. The support that we got and the safe environment allowed for our transition to go smoothly. We both benefited from the program. It allowed me to bond with him again, and when I was struggling, I had help and support from staff." — Carolyn P., Client to reenter school and employment. The agency's community-supported housing model for former women offenders and their children is the first of its kind in Oregon.

Since 1935, the Oregon Shakespeare Festival has drawn audiences into stories and staging that have > earned it worldwide recognition for its ambitious repertory season. Today, the festival manages a season of 11 plays in all stages of production and, at the height of its season, performs as many as five different plays in a single day. In 2014, OSF moved its storage, stagecraft, and production operations from a small facility in Ashland into a newly constructed 64,000-square-foot production warehouse in Talent. The new production center provides adequate space for concurrent construction of multiple stage sets and storage for props, scenery, and costumes; and allows for large set pieces to efficiently proceed through construction, painting, and transport to its Ashland stages.

Since 1970, ShelterCare in Eugene has been helping to move homeless and at-risk individuals and families toward greater levels of housing stability by integrating counseling and social services that promote independence and recovery into its shelter and housing programs in Lane County. Its programs focus on three low-income populations: families with children who are homeless or at risk of homelessness; adults with an acquired brain injury; and adults diagnosed with severe, persistent mental illness. In 2014, ShelterCare renovated a 25,000-square-foot warehouse to create a centralized service hub that consolidates resources and brings together a variety of specialists under one roof. The vision was to improve client access to counseling, social services, and housing resources. With the project now complete, the new facility increases the agency's ability to handle group and private sessions; enables adults to access computers as they search for housing or employment; and offers more potential for collaborative, team-based approaches to case-management services.

Human Solutions builds pathways out of poverty through its affordable housing, family services, job readiness training, and other supports for families and individuals.

Responding to the growing needs in east

Multnomah County, Human Solutions developed and completed the Rockwood Multi Service Center during the last recession. Today, the center hosts a wealth of community services, including Wallace Medical Concern, a Federally Qualified Health Center, which is the medical home for many area residents. Soon, Human Solutions will expand further with the development of Rosewood Plaza, a complex of affordable housing, dental care, and health resources adjacent to the center.

The new plaza will enhance the partnership between Human Solutions and Wallace Medical Concern by incorporating a seven-chair dental clinic and a home for Wallace's administrative offices. Upon completion, low-income residents will have access to dental services based on a sliding-fee scale.

"It's really great that we will get this dental clinic in our neighborhood. It's almost impossible for my family and me to get low-cost dental care, and we often go without. I would totally welcome housing where a family of five could live in a safe and affordable place."

Friends of Zenger Farm is a working, urban farm that has promoted sustainable food systems, access to healthy foods, environmental stewardship, and local economic development since 1999. From its location near the culturally diverse neighborhoods of Lents and Powellhurst-Gilbert, the farm offers educational programs and tours for nearby school districts, Healthy Eating on a Budget workshops in multiple languages, and community gardening for low-income neighbors. It also operates the Lents International Farmers Market. In 2014, Zenger Farm began to realize its plans to build the Urban Grange, a facility that will expand its role as an educational, economic, and environmental resource. With the completion of the Urban Grange, Zenger Farm seeks to double the number of neighbors it serves by expanding onsite youth education programs and workshops, increasing community farming and sustainability programs, and providing use of a commercial kitchen to low-income entrepreneurs.

Located on the banks of the Columbia River in Astoria, the Columbia River Maritime Museum welcomes more than 100,000 visitors annually to explore its rich collection of historical and cultural maritime materials, boats, and seacraft and to participate in workshops and educational programs. Over the last several decades, the maritime museum's collections have been housed in multiple locations in Astoria without proper climate controls and, in many cases, inaccessible to researchers and staff. The museum recently transformed its preservation practices by acquiring nearby buildings and converting them into a 30,000-square-foot, state-of-the-art conservation and collection center. Now, staff can plumb the depths of the museum's artifacts and materials to create new and exciting exhibits, and visitors and students will have more opportunity to deepen their understanding of the maritime history of the Pacific Northwest.

"As the only museum in the Pacific Northwest with dedicated storage for historically important regional small craft, this project will benefit maritime historians, boat builders, and the people of the Pacific Northwest for generations to come." - Betsy Davis, Executive Director, Northwest School of Boatbuilding, Port Hadlock, Washington

The Foundation

The Collins Foundation was founded in 1947 by four members of the Collins family. The purpose of the Foundation, as stated in the documents of incorporation, is to operate and use its funds exclusively for charitable, educational, literary, scientific, or religious purposes.

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the method of accounting used for federal excise tax purposes. The revenues (except unrealized net gains on investments) and expenditures (except federal excise tax) are recognized when received or when paid. Consequently, certain revenues and expenses are recognized in the determination of income in different reporting periods than they would be if the financial statements were prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Although income tax rules are used to determine the timing of revenues and expenses, nontaxable revenues and nondeductible expenses are included in the determination of net income. As with all tax presentations, these tax accounting methods are subject to review and possible adjustment by the Internal Revenue Service

Investments Investments in marketable securities are stated on the basis of current quoted market prices. Investment transactions are recognized on a settlement date basis. Investment transactions under such basis are not materially different from those that would be recognized on a trade date basis. Realized gains and losses are calculated based on the average cost method for both financial statement and tax return purposes. Unrealized gains or losses are recorded for the increase or decrease in the market value of assets from the beginning of the year to the end of the year. Investments in limited partnerships and real estate funds are stated at estimated fair values provided by the managers of the interests.

The Foundation also invests in numerous partnerships, in which the Foundation is a limited partner, that specialize in making venture capital, buyout, distressed debt, and equity-based real estate investments. Such investments, typically investments in private equity or debt securities of companies or properties that are not publicly listed or traded, are not liquid investments. The value of such investments is determined by the partnerships' general partners, who must follow the valuation guidelines, such as appraisals and comparable company trade data, stipulated in the respective limited partnership agreements and in accordance with fair value accounting. The December 31 valuations of the investments in limited partnerships are based upon the value determined by the partnerships' general partner as of September 30, adjusted for capital contributions and distributions that occur during the quarter ended December 31. These amounts may differ from values that would be determined if the investments in limited partnerships were publicly traded or if the December 31 valuation amount were currently available. Realized gains and losses and unrealized changes in the fair value of investments in limited partnerships are reflected in the statement of revenue, expense, and changes in net assets. The majority of limited partnerships are audited annually by independent public accounting firms. The Foundation is committed to invest funds into these partnerships. As of December 31, 2014, the Foundation has $1.7 million in outstanding limited partnership commitments, including both domestic and international partnerships.

Program-Related Investment Program-related investment consisted of a preferred stock which facilitated charitable activities. It was stated at cost, which approximated market value. An impairment due to bankruptcy was recorded in 2014 and the entire investment was written off.

Grants Grants are recorded as expenditures in the year paid. Unpaid grants include grants with a payable date after year end, and grants in which the restriction or matching requirement has not been met at year end. Unpaid grants are included in unrestricted net assets. Grants are generally approved subject to certain conditions. If these conditions are not met, or if the program or project approved for a grant needs less than the amount approved, grants may be refunded or canceled. Cancellations or refunds are recognized in the year in which they occur.

Use of Estimates The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Subsequent Events The Foundation has evaluated subsequent events through March 20, 2015, which is the date these financial statements were available to be issued. Events, if any, are disclosed within the notes to these financial statements.

Note 2: Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash equivalents consist of highly liquid instruments such as money market accounts and certificates of deposit, with maturities of less than three months. Cash equivalents are recorded at cost, which approximates market value.

Cash and cash equivalents consist of the following at December 31:

	2014	2013
Cash – interest bearing	$1,022,003	$689,525

Note 3: Concentration of Credit Risk

The Foundation's assets consist of cash, equity securities, corporate obligations, limited partnership interests, and real estate funds. These financial instruments may subject the Foundation to concentrations of risk as, at various times during the year, cash balances may exceed amounts insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation; the market value of securities is dependent on the ability of the issuer to honor its contractual commitments; and the investments are subject to changes in market values.

Note 4: Investments

Investments consist of the following at December 31:

		2014	:	2013
	Cost	Market	Cost	Market
Invested cash and cash equivalents	$ 7,366,414	$ 7,366,414	$ 5,764,708	$ 5,764,708
Common and preferred stock	113,054,419	149,175,128	106,539,377	150,837,321
Corporate obligations	14,744,745	14,426,132	14,692,117	14,309,321
Limited partnership interests	34,852,401	42,215,376	30,322,911	37,578,368
Real estate funds	5,000,000	5,409,570	5,000,000	5,035,644
Total	$175,017,979	$218,592,620	$162,319,113	$213,525,362

Invested cash and cash equivalents include cash and money market funds held by the Foundation's investment managers.

Note 5: Provision for Excise and Income Tax

The Collins Foundation is classified as a private foundation as defined in the Tax Reform Act of 1986. The provisions of the Internal Revenue Code exempt the Foundation from federal and state income taxes. The Foundation is subject to federal and state tax on unrelated business income. The Foundation is subject to a federal excise tax of 2% on net investment income. If the average payout ratio for the past five years plus 1% of net investment income in the current year is less than the current year's charitable distributions, federal excise tax is payable at 1% of net investment income

The Foundation paid federal excise tax of 1% in 2014 and 1% in 2013.

The net liabilities for excise and income taxes consist of the following at December 31:

	2014	2013
Current	$282,974	$187,193
Deferred	(76,316)	272,687
Total	$206,658	$459,880

The deferred excise tax consists of excise tax on unrealized gains or losses on investments.

For 2014 and 2013 the Foundation had qualifying distributions of $11,271,146 and $9,894,492, respectively. As of December 31, 2014, the Foundation had qualifying distributions of $1,079,061 in excess of the minimum requirement to meet distribution regulations of the Internal Revenue Code for private foundations. As of December 31, 2013, distributions were in excess of the minimum requirements by $501,196.

Note 6: Pension Plan

The Foundation has a defined contribution salary deferral plan covering all eligible employees. The elective contributions to the plan are funded by voluntary salary reductions of the participants. The Foundation contributes 10% of all eligible employees' compensation. Pension expense during 2014 and 2013 was $47,098 and $45,107, respectively.

Note 7: Commitments

Rental expense under the current lease for the Foundation's office space for 2014 and 2013 amounted to $93,111 and $100,411, respectively. At December 31, 2014, commitments for future minimum payments under this lease agreement, which expires on January 31, 2022, are $67,068 for 2015, $118,919 for 2016, $122,486 for 2017, $126,161 for 2018, $129,955 for 2019, $133,847 for 2020, $137,868 for 2021, and $11,517 for 2022.

Note 8: Supplemental Disclosure of Cash Flow Information

Cash paid for federal and state taxes was $302,400 for 2014 and $195,900 for 2013.

Note 9: Investment and Grant Administration

The classification of administrative expenses between investment and grant expenses is determined by specific identification or an allocation based on time expended.

Board of Trustees The Collins Foundation Portland, Oregon

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of The Collins Foundation, which comprise the statement of assets, liabilities, and net assets – income tax basis as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the related statements of revenue, expense, and changes in net assets – income tax basis, cash flows – income tax basis, and grants for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

As described in Note 1, these financial statements were prepared on the basis of accounting the Foundation uses for income tax purposes, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with the basis of accounting described in Note 1; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the assets, liabilities, and net assets of The Collins Foundation as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the revenue, expense, and changes in net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended, on the basis of accounting described in Note 1

Other Matter

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The accompanying supplementary financial information is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statement or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Grant Policies and Guidelines

The Collins Foundation is an independent, private foundation that was created in 1947 by Truman W. Collins Sr. and other members of the family of E. S. Collins. The Foundation exists to improve, enrich, and give greater expression to humanitarian endeavors in the state of Oregon and to assist in improving the quality of life in the state.

As a general-purpose, responsive grantmaker, the Foundation serves people in urban and rural communities across Oregon through its grants to nonprofit organizations working for the common good. The Foundation's broad areas of interest include arts and humanities, children and youth, community welfare, education, environment, health and science, and religion.

Eligibility Requirements

The Collins Foundation is committed to equal opportunity for all persons regardless of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation and gender identity, age, disability, or any other legally protected status. It is our intent to consider grant requests only from organizations and agencies that pursue these same principles in their governance, employment practices, and services.

The Foundation recognizes that the issue of discrimination is more complex and nuanced than a single policy can convey. Requests may be considered from organizations that have convictions or beliefs of conscience that may not be entirely consistent with the Foundation's values around inclusion. However, organizations that require board members, employees, volunteers, or those receiving services to adhere to specific religious beliefs or lifestyles will automatically be subject to additional scrutiny for eligibility based on the assumption that such requirements are likely to be discriminatory and not compatible with the Foundation's policies or practices.

Grant requests are considered only from organizations/agencies that have established their tax-exempt status under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, and are not "private foundations" as defined under section 509(a) of the Code, or that have tax exemption as a governmental or other publicly funded entity.

- Grant requests are considered only from nonprofit organizations/agencies that have current registration with the offices of the Oregon State Attorney General and the Secretary of State.
- Grants are made only for projects that directly benefit the residents of Oregon.
- Grants are not made to specific individuals.

Policy Guidelines

- The Foundation will consider only one grant request from the same organization in a twelvemonth period, unless an additional request is invited by the Foundation.
- The Foundation normally will not consider an additional grant request from an organization receiving a multi-year grant until twelve months following the final payment of the multi-year grant.
- Grants normally are not made to elementary, secondary, or public higher education institutions; or to individual religious congregations.
- Grants normally are not made for development office personnel, annual fundraising activities, endowments, operational deficits, financial emergencies, or debt retirement.
- In considering applications for substantial projects, the Foundation prefers to participate with other donors and encourages the applicant to seek support from other sources to share in the total project.

Application Procedures

Grant application procedures and the required application checklist are available at www.collinsfoundation.org.

Application Review

Foundation trustees meet six times annually to make decisions on grant requests. Foundation staff acknowledges each request received and informs eligible applicants of the date anticipated for consideration by the trustees. Once a request has been funded or declined, the applicant is notified promptly. Rarely is a grant decision deferred. When this occurs, however, the applicant is provided with an explanation and further instructions.

The grant review process begins after receiving a completed application and usually requires eight to twelve weeks, provided the applicant has complied fully with the application procedures. The submission of an incomplete grant proposal may cause delays in the Foundation's review and consideration of the request.

During the grant review period, Foundation staff may request an interview or a site visit in order to gain more information about the agency and its proposal. Additional written material may also be requested. Throughout this time, applicants are encouraged to notify the Foundation of any changes in the status of the project under review, including its funding.

The Collins Foundation endeavors to serve people throughout Oregon. Despite this commitment, the Foundation is unable to support every request received. Denial of a grant should not necessarily be considered a reflection on the quality of a project or the worthiness of its sponsor.

Grant Reporting

Every organization receiving a grant from The Collins Foundation has a responsibility to report on the use of the funds granted. Reporting guidelines are provided with each of the Foundation's grant awards and are available for review on the Foundation's website. Unless otherwise indicated at the time disbursement is made, reports are required annually until the entire grant has been expended. Failure to report as required by the Foundation could influence future grant decisions by the trustees.
